Lest We Forget

There are many things we shall forget about Mocksville High in future years, but there are also many things we will remember.

We might forget some of our teachers' names, but we shall always remember and thank them for the things they did for us.

We might forget tripping on that last step coming up from the basement, but we will never forget how natural and at home we feel walking down the hall.

Maybe we shall forget standing in the lunch line watching the Freshmen go by, but we shall never forget how nice and cheerful the lunchroom staff was.

We might forget how disappointed we were when our candidates for King and Queen weren't crowned at the Halloween Carnival, but we shall not forget when they won.

We might forget whether we won or lost our ball games, but we will never forget how hard the team fought for us.

Perhaps we will even forget with whom we went to the Junior-Senior Banquet, or whom we sat beside, but we certainly won't forget that grown-up feeling.

Last, but certainly not least, we might forget our grades, but we will never, never forget that we were being graduated, we really were!!!

Dedication

We, the Seniors of 1948, proudly dedicate our annual to Mr. Jacob Stewart, Chairman of our school committee. Colonel Stewart has served the school and community without pay and sometimes even without thanks. We take this opportunity to thank him for his loyal service.

Prophecy

Hello, everybody! This is your evening reporter on station WMHS, Mocksville, North Carolina. I wonder whether any of you know what day this is or what it means to me? It is important to me as the fifteenth anniversary of graduation from high school and the tenth anniversary of this program.

Since this is a rather special day, I would like to tell you a special story. So move that big, soft, easy chair over close to your radio and relax.

There were thirty-six students graduated by Mocksville High School in 1948. You now know this school as the Farthing Seminary. I think it would be very interesting for me to tell you what has happened to those students. Don't you? I know it will be especially interesting for the friends and relatives of my classmates.

I don't know exactly with whom to start; I suppose it would be more fitting to start with the ones who are still in our midst.

All of you know our third-grade teacher, Mrs. RUTH ALLEN Bishop. She was voted the most likely to succeed in our class, and truly, she has succeeded.

And then there is Dr. Reed Banister's wife, Mrs. LAVAUGHN SMITH Banister, who is head nurse at the Stuart Memorial Hospital, in this city.

Many of us remember the contest last year to find the model American mother, sponsored by WILLIAM LEE GRAVES, the president of the new factory which is making his cleanser product "See It Go." Mrs. BONNIE SUE McDANIEL Summers, the mother of three lovely children, was the winner. The award, a five-hundred-dollar bond and a case of "See It Go," was presented to Bonnie by his secretary, Miss EDITH WHITE, who won the state typing contest in 1954. DORIS CHAFFIN, once just a small town girl, is now the world's champion typist; she won the state contest in 1956.

Mrs. HELEN SMITH Melton is head of the Commerce Department at the University of Chicago, where her husband, Julian Melton, is professor of Latin.

JUANITA WHITAKER owns the world's largest Telephone Operator School at Denver, Colorado. She started out as a telephone operator in Winston-Salem and has really gone a long way in fifteen years.

All of you remember a year or two ago when the Dryden Enterprise carried the full story of that famous lawyer, DAISY MAE IRVIN Nichols, in the case of ELLA MAE (LEONARD) versus Irene. Ella Mae, the nationally-known dress designer, sued Irene for $5,000,000 for using one of her creations. Ever since that case, my correspondent in New York tells me, Lawyer Daisy Nichols has handled cases for Rockefeller, Vanderbilt, and other rich men and women in the world, including Doris Duke. Ella Mae even creates garments for Ethel Barrymore, and other famous people, among them Mocksville's own Ray Grant (RACHEL GRANT). She is famous for her performance in the "Voice of the Eel," which ran for twenty-two months on Broadway in 1957. When Rachel's new stage play, "North Carolina," opened on Broadway last year, replacing the hit "Oklahoma," everyone marveled at her hair styles. Rachel has a special hair dresser who studied in France, and has been with her for almost ten years. She is Maria Popleine, better known as MARIE POPLIN.

I received a letter the other day from the world's most famous flying couple, Mr. and Mrs. EARL HENDRICKS. Mrs. Hendricks is the former ANN MARTIN. They have given air shows all over the world. Once, in 1960, they gave a small show here to raise money for the Infantile Paralysis Hospital at Burlington, North Carolina. The hospital was founded by DANNY BAILEY, a former polio nurse at Warm Springs, Georgia. Danny always did like to live in Danville. I guess she founded the Hospital in Burlington so that she would be near Virginia.

BILL COLLETTE, the All-American fullback, was home last week; I had a long talk with him. He is now living in a twenty-room mansion in Chicago, Illinois. Professional football must be paying well these days.

ROBERTA BOWLES is now personal secretary to Admiral Nimitz. I saw her on the U. S. S. Americana, in a newsreel at the new Queen Anne Theatre after she became famous for building a flying boat larger than Howard Hughes' famous flying boat of '47.

At Jimmy's Ice Cream Parlor in the Junior Waldorf-Astoria Hotel I met the "Pickle King" of North and South America, JOE HODGES DAVIS. He has quite a large business now and has offices all over the world. EMILY WYATT has full charge of the office in Buenos Aires, Argentina. Joe told me she had sold more of his "Prickle Brickle Pickles" than any other agent. He said he had to come up to the Sand Hills to see his farmer, LEON WHITE, to find out if he couldn't raise a couple thousand more bushels of cucumbers, so he decided to run on up to Mocksville to see his relatives. Joe remarked that Leon even had to buy more land. And from whom do you think he bought it? None other than old FRED DANIEL, who has extensive real estate interests in North and South Carolina.

BETSY SHORT is writing her fourth in a series of books on "How to Teach Chemistry" or "Why Chemistry Drives You Crazy." Not too many years ago she published a book on "The Best Way to Use Chemistry in Later Life." She seems to be doing very well. After all, $70,000 for each book isn't cabbage!

I received a wire from LESTER COOK the other day. He told me that if I ever needed a new car to let him know and he would build me any kind I wanted. It seems "Pete" is now operating the largest factory in Michigan and produces Cook-Atomic Cars. Guess he'll turn out to be another Henry Ford.

KATHERINE BOGER, once a nurse at Johns Hopkins Hospital, is married to a handsome young interne and now has a family. She lives in a beautiful home on Klondike Hill.

MARION HORN is a Lab Technician in San Francisco, California.

CAROLYN CRAVEN, the world's champion basketball player, and her husband, Ensign RICHARD FOSTER, are living in Seattle, Washington.

The wittiest boy of our class, JOE CECIL McDANIEL, is the most popular comedian in the movies. His latest picture is "The Secret Life of Danny Kaye."

WILBERT POTTS is driving a bus from Winston to Atlanta, for a new bus line called the White Terrier, which is owned by that handsome New York playboy, GRADY DUNNE.

Model RUTH MILLER Haneline won the Miss America contest in 1959; that was before she became Mrs. Haneline.

Have you heard of the new editor of the "Progressive Farmer"? He is none other than ROY SAFLEY. And, speaking of editors, JULIA CRATER is the fashion editor of "Bazaar" magazine.

I'd like to remind you to tune in, immediately after my program, to the Metropolitan Opera House, starring Violinist FRANCES COLLETTE, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. BETTY SUE EATON Dwiggins.

Before I go, I should like to call your attention to my latest novel, "The Lost Lover"; which is due off the press next week. I hope you'll enjoy it.

I have just received a wire from New York saying that Grady Dunne and Frances Collette have remarried.

My time is up and I have to be running along.

This is your evening reporter BARBARA RIDENHOUR signing off until tomorrow.

Good-bye folks.

History

I am the principal's desk. I live in the office twenty-four hours a day all year 'round. Some days are bright and sunny, some days are cloudy and dreary, but to me it makes no difference, for I was put here for one purpose and that was to be used by the principal of Mocksville High School. That is what I have done ever since I have been here. But once in a while I sneak in a little pleasure as all human beings do. Thinking back over the years gone by, I find that I can recall when the class of nineteen hundred forty-eight first entered high school. Ah, what a glorious day that was. Their very first year in high school! You can't imagine how happy and proud they were. And so grown up! Or at least that is what they thought, but you and I know they were just starting four of the most important years of their lives.

They began that year under the kindly direction of Miss Elizabeth Epps and Mrs. Christine Daniel. Even though they were Freshmen, they came out on top with Frances Collette and Bob Greene as candidates for Queen and King of the Halloween Carnival. Frances won the crown of the school. A new student, Danny Bailey, came to Mocksville from Danville, Virginia.

The next year they were Sophomores. Their sponsors were Miss Epps again and Miss Nell Harden, a new teacher from Salisbury. Ann Martin and Danny Bailey were class presidents. Danny Bailey and Bill Collette were candidates for the Queen and King at the Carnival. The float that year was a wagon with a farm girl and boy. The wagon was covered in white crepe paper. That year they lost three students: Sadie Richie, Norma Lee Walker, and Guy Tutterow. Miss Harden also helped organize a Dramatics Club. At first there were only about eighteen members, but by the Junior year all the class belonged.

Ah, how well I remember that bright and prosperous year. I'll never forget the time they all piled in a truck and had a wonderful party at Mirror Lake. How that brings back old memories!

As the students gathered in little groups of chattering girls and boys on the first day of the eleventh year, they were told that they would all be in the same home room. This pleased them very much; it seemed more like one big happy family. They were once again sponsored by Miss Harden. Under the leadership of Helen Smith many significant things were accomplished. Carolyn Craven and Fred Daniel were candidates for the Queen and King of the Halloween Carnival. They rode in the parade to Times Square, oh, excuse me, I mean Mocksville Square, in a buggy, dressed as "folks" of long ago. Edna Dunn left them at Christmas for Holy Matrimony. The class boldly undertook the job of raising money for the Junior-Senior Banquet. They did many things in the way of making money. They sold magazines, soft drinks and hot dogs at all the ball games, sponsored Arthur Smith and His Cracker Jacks, and gave a "rip-roaring" play by the name of "Mystery of Crazy Canyon Ranch." When all the profits were counted, they had a total of over $300. A wonderful banquet was given the Seniors on the Balinese Roof of the Robert E. Lee Hotel. This was the first class to give a banquet on the roof. Each person attending was given a red or white carnation. Their theme was "Stardust." Later in the night the roof orchestra played many numbers requested by Juniors and Seniors; among them was the melody "Stardust." Oh! I almost forgot to tell you they ordered the class rings that year. After much thought and discussion an oval ring with a ruby or a blue set mounted with a crest was chosen.

As dignified Seniors, the students began to feel the responsibility of their position and worked long and hard to set an excellent example for the rest of the school. They started the new and different year with the following class officers: President, Ella Mae Leonard; Vice-President, Danny Bailey; Secretary, Carolyn Craven; and Treasurer, Marion Horn. Mrs. Beryl Dryden was their class adviser. The first important thing to happen was the arrival of the rings. Ah, that was an exciting day! A student council was organized with Gardy Dunne as president. Ruth Allen and Bill Collette were the Senior representatives. Marion Horn and Fred Daniel were candidates for the Carnival King and Queen, they both won second place. The float was a throne built on a truck with two grammar grade children holding crowns on velvet pillows. Ruth Miller and Barbara Ridenhour served as ladies-in-waiting. The class gave a student-written murder play at Halloween. It was a big success. The Beta Club was organized with thirteen members chosen by the faculty. With all the things that Seniors do, such as order caps and gowns, order invitations and cards, publish an annual, take part in the Christmas Pantomime, give chapel programs, give a play, attend the Junior-Senior Banquet, have a good time and oodles of other things, the year was soon gone for them. But I am sure it will always remain in their hearts as one of the happiest years ever spent in dear ole' Mocksville Hi. They will always hold a sort of special place in my heart too.

When they received their diplomas, I slipped upstairs to peep. As they walked across the stage, tears came to my eyes. I don't know why. Graduation should be a happy time, but it always is a little sad to think that I have lost more friends as they go on their road of life, leaving me and all the rest of their friends behind. But way down deep inside, I know that it is the best thing that could happen to them.

Now they are gone but certainly not forgotten. They have gone and left a place to be filled. Truly this place will be filled with the class of '49. So here I sit in my same old place waiting until school opens to say hello to the new Seniors, and to the old Seniors of '48 I say, "Good-bye and the best of luck."

Last Will and Testament

We, the members of the Senior Class of nineteen hundred forty-eight, of the City of Mocksville, County of Davie, and State of North Carolina, being of age and of sound mind, sound memory and sound judgment, do make, publish, and declare this our LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT, hereby revoking and annulling any and all Wills by us made heretofore:

- I, Ruth Allen, will my title of "Most Studious" to Ed Ellis.
  - I, Danny Bailey, leave my friendly disposition to Ann Poston.
  - I, Katherine Boger, bequeath to Betty Ann Turner my place in the Dramatics Club, so that she may take a part in next year's dramatic productions.
  - I, Roberta Bowles, will my flirty habits to Billie Ann Frost, even though she doesn't need them.
  - I, Doris Chaffin, would like to leave my giggles to someone, but have decided I had better keep them. They may come in handy sometime.
  - I, Bill Collette, will my ability to get up in English class and make everyone laugh to Bill Mason.
  - I, Frances Collette, give my imagination to Athalene Carter, with the hope that she doesn't let it run away.
  - I, Lester Cook, will my ability to read "Macbeth" to Charlie Lakey, 'cause he "shore" will need it.
  - I, Julia Crater, will my neatness to Louise Cartner.
  - I, Carolyn Craven, will my ability to play basketball to Louella Ferebee to make her an even better player.
  - I, Fred Daniel, will my red hair to the rest of the high school boys to be divided equally among them, 'cause no one else has any.
  - I, Joe Davis, leave my quiet manner to Bill Click, as he needs it.
  - I, Bobby DeVault, bequeath to Leon Ladd my best pipe to be smoked at least once a day.
  - I, Grady Dunne, give my title of "Most Handsome," which was left to me by Carl Greene, to Gene Wyatt.
  - I, Richard Foster, leave my "come-hither" ways to Clegg Howard, on the condition that he return them next year.
  - I, Rachel Grant, will my height to Florence Cornatzer, so she can grow taller, even as tall as I am.
  - I, William Lee Graves, give my nicknames to Ervin Angell since he doesn't have any.
  - I, Betty Sue Eaton, will my piano to Hazel Safley, provided she plays only music on it.
  - I, Earl Hendricks, bequeath my football ability to Billy Benson.
  - I, Marion Horn, leave my smiles to Merrell Rice to mix with hers.
  - I, Daisy Mae Irvin, give my yells to Guy Farthing. Be sure to learn them.
  - I, Ella Mae Leonard, will my office as president of the Senior Class to Margaret Roberts.
  - I, Ann Martin, bequeath to Colean Smith my business-like manner, provided she doesn't wear it out.
  - I, Bonnie Sue McDaniel, leave my ability to keep a steady boy friend to Jo Sparks.
  - I, Joe Cecil McDaniel, will my "wit" to Grady Lee McClamrock whether he needs it or not.
  - I, Ruth Miller, will my beauty to Peggy Graham.
  - I, Marie Poplin, will my neat clothes to Ruby Lee Peoples, 'cause she wanted them so badly.
  - I, Barbara Ridenhour, give my habit of doing and saying the wrong thing at the wrong time to Betty Honeycutt, with the hope that it doesn't get her in as much trouble as it has me.
  - I, Roy Safley, leave to James Nichols my little A-Model so he can go see "Diz."
  - I, Betsy Short, bequeath my Chemistry knowledge to Ruby Jean Sheets so Miss Martin won't have too hard a time teaching her.
  - I, Helen Smith, will my typing ability to Nancy Durham, with the hope that she doesn't have to work as hard as I have.
  - I, Lavaughn Smith, will my gaiety to Glenna Mae Boger, so she can have a good time, too.
  - I, Juanita Whitaker, leave my "Poster Making Business" to Mildred Rice and I hope she doesn't run out of ideas, either.
  - I, Edith White, will my chewing gum to Beulah Boger so she'll have some to chew.
  - I, Leon White, bequeath to Leslie Blackwelder, my bus driver's license, on the condition that he doesn't ever get in a ditch.
  - I, Emily Wyatt, will my management of the school supply room to Betty Lou Martin so she may always be late for first period class.
- In Witness Whereof we have hereunto set our hands and seal, this the first day of May, nineteen hundred forty-eight.

Hallowe'en Carnival 1947

Seated: Peggy Graham, Pat Grant.

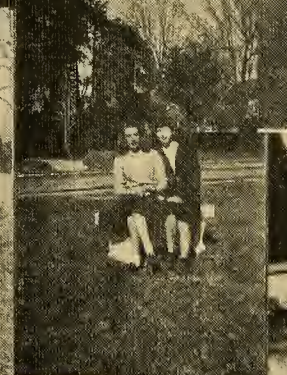

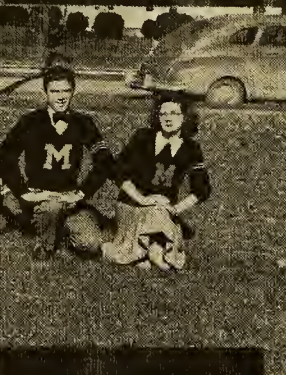

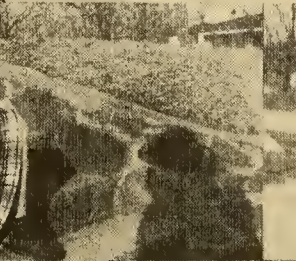

Standnig: Marion Horn, Jack LeGrand, King Gene Wyatt, Queen Nan Bowden, Bill Sofley, Fred Daniel.

The 1947 Hallowe'en Carnival was successful from every standpoint. The Mocksville P. T. A., students, and teachers worked together to put on a parade, program and carnival in the gymnasium which will be long remembered. The Dramatics Club gave a mystery play entitled "Revenge at Rockhaven" in the auditorium before the main events at the gym. Queen Nan and King Gene were crowned after a spirited race and the royal group was seated on a throne for the coronation. Many sideshows, bingo, and other booths attracted the crowds. A happy and non-destructive Hallowe'en night was enjoyed by all, which proved that Mocksville students spent a gay and worthwhile evening.
